

Dear parents and carers

Please find the home learning lessons attached below. These lessons match what we are learning about in class and will continue to be used once your child is back in school. You are welcome to do them in your own time but we recommend using the lesson on the day we do them in school.

Please remember to read each day and as always continue to use purple mash, my maths and TT rock stars to further support your home learning.

| English work | In class this week we will have 3 English lessons about WW1 poetry. By the end of the week your child should have a poem that is similar but with different vocabulary to the modelled one you will see on the PDF document.As a hot write task (meaning without adult help) they could write their own poem about any topic that uses the same structure as the modelled one. As this poem is about the majors in charge maybe you could write one about teachers or parents in charge around you. |

| Wednesday           | Antonyms  |
| Friday              | Hot write.  |

Reading

At home please continue to use read theory online and complete the homework on purple mash that includes a story and quiz based on WW1.

In class we will be learning the song 'It's a long way to Tipperary' and using the sheets you will find in the home learning area called WW1 song reading lesson.

Please help your child to learn this song and the meaning of the vocabulary found in it.

Topic

In class we will be learning about food in WW1. At home you may want to join in with the practical elements of this. Please find the topic lesson at home learning sheet in the home learning area to find a recipe for parkin biscuits and an activity using a hardboiled egg.
