

Thursday 28th January

- Reading: The Boy at the Back of the Class (inference)
- English lesson – live lesson at 9.30 (R/Y/G) and 10am (Blue) using the following slides
- Blue Group lesson4:
<https://classroom.thenational.academy/lessons/to-use-prepositional-phrases-of-place-c5j62d>

Adverbial Phrases

It was quite a small room with heavy black beams criss-crossing the ceiling in a regular pattern. By daylight the place was amazingly dirty. The stones of the floor were stained and greasy, ash was piled within the fender, and cobwebs hung in dusty droops from the dark beams. There was a layer of dust on the skull standing on the single shelf near her head. Sophie absent-mindedly wiped it off as she went to peer into the sink beside the workbench. Shuddering at the pink and grey slime in the cracked basin, she lifted her gaze and noticed more slime, this time white, dripping slowly from the pump above the sink. Howl obviously did not care what squalor his servants lived in.

- Blue = how
- Red = where
- Orange = when

From Howl's Moving Castle by Diana Wynne Jones

Adverbial Phrases

It was quite a small room with heavy black beams criss-crossing the ceiling in a regular pattern. By daylight the place was amazingly dirty. The stones of the floor were stained and greasy, ash was piled within the fender, and cobwebs hung in dusty droops from the dark beams. There was a layer of dust on the skull standing on the single shelf near her head. Sophie absent-mindedly wiped it off as she went to peer into the sink beside the workbench. Shuddering at the pink and grey slime in the cracked basin, she lifted her gaze and noticed more slime, this time white, dripping slowly from the pump above the sink. Howl obviously did not care what squalor his servants lived in.

From Howl's Moving Castle by Diana Wynne Jones

- Blue = how
- Red = where
- Orange = when

Innovate

It was quite a small room with heavy black beams criss-crossing the ceiling in a regular pattern. By daylight the place was amazingly dirty.

in a regular pattern

diagonally

haphazardly

chaotically

uniformly

By daylight

By moonlight

By lamplight

As dawn approached

By the morning sun

Innovate

The stones of the floor were stained and greasy, ash was piled within the fender, and cobwebs hung in dusty droops from the dark beams.

within the fender

within the fireplace

under the grate

beneath the coals

in dusty droops from the dark beams delicately from the ceiling in tatters from the high roof

sadly from scratched wooden beams

Innovate

It was quite a small room with heavy black beams criss-crossing the ceiling in a regular pattern. By daylight the place was amazingly dirty.

The stones of the floor were stained and greasy, ash was piled within the fender, and cobwebs hung in dusty droops from the dark beams.

It was quite a small room with heavy black beams criss-crossing the ceiling haphazardly. In the moonlight the place was amazingly dirty.

The stones of the floor were stained and greasy, ash was piled under the fireplace, and cobwebs hung sadly from scratched wooden beams.

