English – Revising Speech Punctuation

Watch the Oak National Academy video on revising speech punctuation, then complete this worksheet.

Punctuate these sentences accurately.

shall we go riding after Master William Ned asked

young master of montague hall he whispered

margery whispered of course

we heard aunt carew say I did not expect to find you here

Spot the mistakes and correct them:

“don’t giggle?” i whispered.

“He could be hanged for letting him live here,” she snapped.

I asked. “shall we listen?”

Aunt carew asked, “Do you agree that King Henry is head of the church of England!”

Using the chapter Aunt Carew to inspire you, write a short piece of dialogue between any of the following characters: Aunt Carew, Father, Brother John, William and Marjory. Use the events of the chapter to structure your dialogue. Remember to vary when you are using speech first and speech second, choose appropriate verbs and adverbs to show how a character is speaking and punctuate your dialogue correctly. Complete below (change font colour), on the back of the worksheet or in your book.
