

Reading Week 5 - poetry

Session 1

Whole text - Get to know the poem

This week our text is about a shopping trolley. Do you think it'll be good? What might the poem say about a shopping trolley?

Let's read it and see...

Reading Week 5 - poetry

Do you like it?
Were your predictions
correct?

Practise reading the poem until you are fluent
with it?

What do you notice?

Rhythm?

Pace?

Rhyme?

Shopping Trolley

by Brian Moses

Scot down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for miles
in my shopping trolley.

Never say excuse me,
never say please,
ram it in the back
of someone's knees.

You really won't
believe your eyes,
My shopping trolley's
been customised.

It's got bull bars
radio controls,
engine in the back
and it purrs like a Rolls.

It's got a Volvo chassis,
a velvet seat,

and around the store
it can't be beat.

It does somersaults
and big back flips,
roly-polys
and wheely dips.

It goes over seventy
miles per hour
flashing past
in a burst of power.

Scot down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for miles
in my shopping trolley.

Never say excuse me,
never say please,
ram it in the back
of someone's knees.

Session 1

Reading Week 5
- poetry

Vocabulary -
It's only words

What's
missing?

Shopping Trolley
by Brian Moses

Session 2

down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for
in my shopping trolley.

Never say
never say
it in the back
of someone's

You really won't believe your My shopping trolley's
been

It's got bull bars
radio
engine in the back
and it like a Rolls.

It's got a Volvo
a velvet seat,

and around the
it can't be

It does somersaults
and roly-polys
and dips.

It goes over seventy per hour
flashing past
in a of

down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for
in my shopping trolley.

Never say
never say
it in the back
of someone's

Ram
(verb)

Ram it in the back of someone's knees.

customised (adjective)

My shopping trolley's
been customised.

To modify or change something to suit a particular person or occasion.

Reading Week 5 - poetry

Session 3

Performing the poem

Shopping Trolley

by Brian Moses

Scoot down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for miles
in my shopping trolley.

Never say excuse me,
never say please,
ram it in the back
of someone's knees.

You really won't
believe your eyes,
My shopping trolley's
been customised.

It's got bull bars
radio controls,
engine in the back
and it purrs like a Rolls.

It's got a Volvo chassis,
a velvet seat,

and around the store
it can't be beat.

It does somersaults
and big back flips,
roly-polys
and wheely dips.

It goes over seventy
miles per hour
flashing past
in a burst of power.

Scoot down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for miles
in my shopping trolley.

Never say excuse me,
never say please,
ram it in the back
of someone's knees.

Watch
from 7:03

Reading Week 5 - poetry

Performing the poem

In groups of 2, 3 or 4, you need to perform this poem.

You can use the musical instruments provided.

Think about what you will say in chorus and alone.

Pace? Will you speed up or slow down?

Dynamics: soft or loud parts?

Thursday - practice

Friday - perform

Session 3 and 4

Shopping Trolley

by Brian Moses

Scoot down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for miles
in my shopping trolley.

Never say excuse me,
never say please,
ram it in the back
of someone's knees.

You really won't
believe your eyes,
My shopping trolley's
been customised.

It's got bull bars
radio controls,
engine in the back
and it purrs like a Rolls.

It's got a Volvo chassis,
a velvet seat,

and around the store
it can't be beat.

It does somersaults
and big back flips,
roly-polys
and wheely dips.

It goes over seventy
miles per hour
flashing past
in a burst of power.

Scoot down the aisles
in my shopping trolley,
I could go for miles
in my shopping trolley.

Never say excuse me,
never say please,
ram it in the back
of someone's knees.