

Week 5 4.2.22

What are you able to build with your blocks?
Castles and palaces, churches and docks.
Rain may keep raining, and others may moan,
But I can be happy building at home.

Let the sofa be mountains, the carpet a sea,
That's where I'll make the castle for me:
With a moat and portcullis, a drawbridge beside,
And hundreds of turrets where people can hide.

With high walls that enemies never can climb,
And dungeons for if you've committed a crime,
For as long as I live, and wherever I may be,
I'll always remember my
castle by the sea.

Who do you think is building the castle?
Why?

Why do you think others may be moaning?

Why do you think the castle at sea will always be remembered by the author?

Week 5 4.2.22

What are you able to build with your blocks?
Castles and palaces, churches and docks.
Rain may keep raining, and others may moan,
But I can be happy building at home.

Let the sofa be mountains, the carpet a sea,
That's where I'll make the castle for me:
With a moat and portcullis, a drawbridge beside,
And hundreds of turrets where people can hide.

With high walls that enemies never can climb,
And dungeons for if you've committed a crime,
For as long as I live, and wherever I may be,
I'll always remember my
castle by the sea.

Who do you think is building the castle?
Why?

Why do you think others may be moaning?

Why do you think the castle at sea will always be remembered by the author?