

Red challenge:

Match the rhetorical question to the topic by colouring the matching pairs in the same colour.

Young children should not be allowed to watch TV.	Haven't you always longed to go home when it's too hot to work properly at school?
It is cruel to keep animals in cages.	Have you ever wondered what it would be like to live in a mansion or to have people from all over the world recognise your face?
School uniforms should be banned.	Do you enjoy eating ice cream by the beach on a warm, sunny day?
Being famous would be the best thing in the world.	Wouldn't you love to be able to wear whatever you wanted to school each day?
Summer is the best season of the year.	How would you feel about being kept in a cage, locked up with hardly any space to move around in?
Schools should be closed on days over 30°C.	Did you know that too much time in front of a television can seriously affect children's eye health?

Yellow Challenge: if it is rhetorical, write it in your English book.

- a) Don't you ever think about anyone else?
- b) Can you afford to throw money away?
- c) Are you hungry?
- d) Are you interested in having more time to relax?
- e) Do you enjoy brilliant stories?
- f) Do you want your children to live in poverty?
- g) When will this madness end?
- h) When are you going to school?
- i) If we don't stop now, what will be next?

Green challenge: Now think of some rhetorical questions for these situations:

1) You want your friend to give you their lunch.

2) You want the lady in your favorite shop to give you a discount.

3) You forgot your homework and you don't want the teacher to be angry.

4) You want your parents to let you stay out late at night.

6) You want your family to let you watch your favorite TV programme.
